Broken teeth or abscessed teeth, cavities, and other painful periodontal problems are often uncovered with the removal of tarter and plaque during a dental cleaning procedure. Such findings would indicate a need for tooth extraction or more extensive dental work. There are many perceptions of what course of action is expected with such discoveries.

Our primary concern is the health and well-being of your pet, however, we would like to meet your expectations should any unanticipated conditions arise. Please indicate the approach you would prefer to deal with unforeseeable complications.

Please Check One:

- A. _____ Please give my pet the best possible care. Make any necessary extractions or minor dental work upon discovery. Major dental procedures such as root canal or restorative work will require referral and will be discussed with you at the time of discharge.
- B _____ Please contact me and discuss any additional dental work indicated. I will be available to be reached at this phone # _____. If for some reason I am unable to be reached at this number, please follow response A or C (Please circle one)
- C _____ Please do nothing more than a routine procedure of cleaning the teeth, even if problems indicate a need to return for a second episode of anesthesia .
